Truman to Keep Cabinet Intact

Source Says Everybody Is Talking Change but President

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—Highly placed administration officials said today President Truman will try to keep his present cabinet intact during the year ahead.

One top rank aide, describing Mr. Truman's primary personnel problem as the accumulation of vacancies in other high level posts, added: "Everybody seems to talk about cabinet changes except the boss himself."

This official, in daily touch with the President, said Mr. Truman will be guided largely by the wishes of Secretary of State Byrnes in naming a new ambassador to London. W. Averell Harriman was brought home recently to replace the ousted Henry A. Wallace as commerce secretary after Wallace took issue with Byrnes' foreign policy.

Byrnes' work with the Paris Peace Conference and on preparation for the coming four-power foreign ministers' meeting in New York City, plus the President's own preoccupation with the many other problems, have delayed a get-together on this vacancy, one of nine waiting to be filled.

Five involve the Congressional created atomic energy commission. The other three are Federal communications chairman, solicitor general and loan administrator.

Local Negro Is Stabbed; Another Held in Jail

Aran Johnson, 54, a negro of Ireland Corners, charged with stabbing William DuBois, 26, a negro of West Strand, twice in the back with a jackknife, waived examination on a charge of second degree assault today in police court and was held for grand jury action by Judge Matthew V. Cahill.

According to the police report a telephone call was received at 12:25 o'clock this morning that a man in a dark suit, had been stabbed with a West Strand.

Officer William Messing and Walter McDonough, responding to the call, found DuBois at 131 Albee street, and had him removed to the Kingston Hospital for treatment. DuBois, after having his wounds dressed, refused to remain in the hospital, and returned to his home.

Deputy Wesley Cramer was assigned to the case, and learned that DuBois received his wounds in a fight on West Strand. He also learned that Johnson, arrested on the stabbing, had been in Ireland Corners after the fight.

Cramer, together with County Attorney Clayton Vredenburg, drove to Johnson's home where they got him out of bed and brought him back to police headquarters.

Most Ships Expected to Travel Soon

Maritime Picture Is Still Cloudy Due to Gulf Coast Feeling on Agreements

To Seek Order

Kellogg Says He Would Seek Order to Curb Officers

(By The Associated Press)

Most strike-bound vessels in Atlantic and gulf coast ports were expected to put to sea soon, although the maritime picture was still somewhat clouded today by reports of gulf coast opposition to agreements signed in New York between ship operators and two maritime unions.

Deck officers at a majority of east and gulf coast ports voted yesterday on an agreement between ship owners and the A.F.L. masters, mates and pilots which the U. S. Maritime Commission said would end the 27-day tieup on those coasts.

The Houston, Tex., local deferred ratification of the agreement, however, and the situation was further complicated last night by an announcement by the strike chairman of the Houston Local of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (C.I.O.), saying it disapproved the agreement reached by the union with operators last week.

The strike chairman, William G. Kellogg, said he would seek a federal court restraining order today to prevent national officers of the union from putting the agreement into effect. He asserted he had received assurances of support from locals in Philadelphia, Seattle, Savannah, Ga., Norfolk, Va., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Capt. William C. Ash, co-chairman of the M.E.B.A. negotiating committee, said yesterday in New York he expected ships would start to move by Tuesday "unless the Maritime Commission throws some more complicated wrenches into the machinery."

He referred to M.E.B.A.'s action Saturday in declaring it would not announce ratification unless the commission extended benefits of the M.E.B.A. agreement to all government-owned ships. Such a step would cover shipping on the Pacific coast where about half the ships are government-owned.

Sam Hogan, M.E.B.A. president, said Saturday that the commission would meet the demand. Both unions have respected the other's picket lines and Hogan said M.E.B.A. members would continue to picket west coast vessels struck by M.M.P.

Although terms in the M.E.B.A. agreement have not yet been announced officially, M.E.B.A. spokesman said they boosted engineers pay 15 per cent. The union had sought a 35 per cent increase.

The M.M.P. agreement provided a basic monthly wage on liberty ships ranging from $581 for master to $265 for fourth mates who had previously received $505 and $230 respectively. The union had asked 30 per cent increases in wages.

The "Bohach plan" also provides premium pay for Saturday work, and a guarantee of a minimum of four hours pay for any work performed on that day. It also provides one week's vacation after 125 days of work, and two weeks vacation after 175 days.

Plugged-In Iron Is Cause of Blaze

An electric iron that had been left plugged in became overheated setting fire to the iron board in the apartment of Mrs. Irene Simmons in the two family house at 223 Catherine street, this noon, according to the fire department officials.

The overheated iron had burned a hole through the ironing board and the table on which one end of the board stood, and had then fallen to the floor where it ignited a couch nearby.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the fire box at the corner of Mead and East Union streets. There was considerable smoke caused by the fire.

Dewey Will Give Statewide Broadcast on His Programs

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 28 (AP)—Republican campaign strategists, expressing conviction that Governor Dewey will roll up a tremendous plurality upstate, turned full attention today to New York City in a serious bid to capture that Democratic stronghold at the polls Nov. 5.

Dewey, meanwhile, occupied himself with the final draft of a statewide radio broadcast he will deliver tonight from the executive mansion.

Secretary Paul E. Lockwood said the Governor would discuss "the tremendous forward strides that have been made in the last four years in the important fields of social welfare, public health, and the combating of juvenile delinquency."

Lockwood said Dewey also "will

Police Capt. Stoudt Is Absent From Headquarters Desk

Popular Official Reported Ill at His Home; Boss Says Men Are Carrying Work

The Kingston Police Department was minus the services of a captain today due to the absence of Frederick Stoudt, confined to his home by illness.

In failing health over a period of weeks, the popular police official, and former well-known baseball pitcher, was forced by physical handicap to relinquish his duties at headquarters over the week-end.

The absence of Acting Captain Stoudt leaves the police department without the services of a valuable officer, who in police parlance, began his career by pounding the pavement, and later became secretary to Chief Phinney under whose guidance he became familiar with all phases of police work and rose to his present rank.

According to Acting Chief Ernest A. Boss, no acting captain has been appointed to take over Captain Stoudt's desk. He said men on duty at headquarters are doubling up on their work to handle matters during Captain Stoudt's indeterminate leave.

Police officers next in rank to Captain Stoudt are Ray Van Buren and William Leonard, two acting lieutenants.

Sergeant's duties are performed by two regulars, James P. Martin and William T. Roedell and Robert Murphy and William Krum, two veteran sergeants.

First On List

Sergeant Roedell, a veteran of World War I, is first on the promotion list for lieutenant, having passed a recent civil service examination for the post.

Acting Lieutenant Van Buren, also a World War I veteran, is second and Acting Lieutenant William Leonard, third.

Sergeant Roedell recently instituted court action to show cause why he has not been notified of promotion, despite vacancies in the department.

The police board has taken no official action to appoint permanent lieutenants or sergeants since candidates took the civil service examinations several months ago.

Show Cause Order

Sergeant Roedell began his show cause action when the commissioners failed to observe the 20-day period allotted by state law for boards to make appointments.

The two lieutenantcies were vacated by the elevation of Ernest A. Boss to acting chief on the retirement of Charles Phinney, and the promotion of Lieutenant Stoudt to acting captain in place of James V. Simpson, who also retired.

Deep concern over Kingston's short-handed police department is being expressed by the citizenry, not alone because of failure of the police board to announce promotions, but because of the condition that forces Chief Boss to operate with a schedule that has a night patrol of only five men on duty in the city at large, two in a radio car and three on foot.

Details Are Sought

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The House campaign expenditures committee called on four A.F.L. unions today to spell out the details of their political activities or face contempt proceedings. Officials of the American Federation of Musicians, the Teamsters Union of the United International Union of Laundry Workers and the United Garment Workers were summoned to appear at 9:30 a. m. (E.S.T.) and tell why they declined to answer a committee questionnaire.

Expects Trade Increase

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—Director General Sir John Orr of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said today his proposed world board to stabilize prices and supplies of food would increase trade. Addressing a preparatory commission of 16 nations meeting to draft a long-range international food program, Sir John said expansion in output for the masses is necessary if civilization is to survive.

Two Negro Boys Await Grand Jury Action on Holdup

Taxi Driver Tells Troopers He Was Shot at Near Milton; Hired Cab in Poughkeepsie

William McLaughlin, 16, and John Clinton McClean, 18, two North Carolina boys who have been employed at Milton picking apples and doing farm work, are in the Ulster county jail awaiting grand jury action on a charge of assault, second degree, for the slugging of a taxi driver at Milton Saturday night.

Both lads were picked up shortly after James Woolsey of 281 Mill street, Poughkeepsie, a driver for the DuBois Taxi Company of Poughkeepsie, had notified Corporal Metzger and Trooper Austin that he had been held up and shot at by two lads whom he had picked up in Poughkeepsie.

Woolsey said he had picked up the two boys in Poughkeepsie around 7 o'clock Saturday evening and had driven them to Milton. There they alighted from the cab and told him to wait. They returned shortly and one of the youths carried a shotgun. They again entered the car and after being driven a short distance asked him to stop. McLean alighted, again and Woolsey said one of the lads ordered him from the cab, telling him to keep his hands up.

At that time two other colored persons approached, one Nora Keith, began talking to the two youths and appeared to recognize them. Woolsey said. The other person was Roosevelt Melton.

While Nora Keith engaged the two youths in conversation, Woolsey made a dash for it and gained a nearby orchard and as he gained the orchard a shot was fired. Woolsey made his way to the Ship Lantern Inn where he notified State Police at Highland barracks, and Corporal Metzger and Trooper Austin went to the scene.

Neither the troopers arrested McLaughlin and later at McClean's cabin they found him in bed. The shotgun was along side his bed. He too was arrested and both were taken before Justice Ralph Clark at Marlborough for arraignment and were later brought to the Ulster county jail.

Corporal Metzger said during the investigation it developed that the two lads claimed they had hired a British offer to complete evacuation.

Kerhonkson Girls Say Youth Stopped, Attacked Them

Stranger, About 20, Asked About Buses, Then Started Fight With Girls

The sheriff's office is investigating an alleged attack on two young Kerhonkson girls Saturday night by an unidentified, apparently travel-minded youth.

Mrs. George Koolright of Cherrytown Road, Kerhonkson, notified the sheriff's office that her daughter, Carol, 14, and Betty Whitten, also 14, were walking near the Kerhonkson cemetery on Route 209 when they were stopped by a young man.

The girls related that the youth appeared to be quite concerned about information regarding an Albany bus. The girls said they told him they did not know about the bus schedule. The young man then attacked them, they said, and nearly tore the clothes from both. They put up such a furious struggle that the young man was frightened off.

Lewis' Stand Puts Pressure on U. S. In Coal Problem

Big Decision Is Whether to Give in Again or to Let Miners Quit Before Election

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The pro-election coal crisis headed into the shutdown stage today between John L. Lewis and the Truman administration.

While Lewis himself appeared to be on something of a spot with his implied threat of a walkout by his 400,000 soft coal miners Friday, the immediate pressure was on the White House.

The big decision that has to be made there is whether to give in again—as the government did when Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug signed a contract with Lewis last spring to end that 59-day strike—or to let the miners quit work four days before the elections and take whatever political consequences there might be.

Krug, who declined last week to break off his western inspection tour to meet Lewis here on the Friday deadline, still holds the top Presidential assignment to solve the dispute.

Helping out are Reconstruction Director John R. Steelman and George Washington of the Solicitor General's office, who is poring over the Lewis-Lewis agreement of last May to determine whether the United Mine Workers' chief is right in saying that his contract with the government can be reopened November 1.

Krug contends it was to be in force for the entire period of government operation of the mines. But Lewis insists that a termination clause in his last contract with the operators, which he voided last March 31, had been carried over into the government pact.

Accuses Contract Breach

Lewis, accusing the Federal Coal Mines Administration of breaching the Krug-Lewis contract, through "misinterpretations," wants to begin negotiating Friday for a new agreement, calling for higher wages or possibly a shorter work week without loss in pay.

Further, the U.M.W. boss says if Krug fails to "honor" his demand for the November 1 meeting, the current contract will be void as of that date instead of November 20, when Lewis originally indicated he planned to end the government agreement.

The May 29 contract, hailed by the union at that time as one of the best in its history, gave the miners the standard 1934 cent-hourly increase and set up a welfare and retirement fund with a five cent royalty of each ton of coal produced. There already is more than $6,000,000 in this fund, and in a good production year like 1944, the union would gross $30,000,000.

Lewis, in forcing an end to the Krug-Lewis agreement, will be tossing that contract out of the window and starting from scratch. Conceivably the government could take the position that with the contract ended all collections to date should be refunded to the operators. Even if the government doesn't make that move, some mine owners might.

The operators have been unable to agree among themselves on whether to accept the Krug-Lewis compact and take back their mines, which they are running for the coal mines administration. Lewis, however, never actually offered to work for them on those terms.

Bevin Is Reported Agreed Upon Egyptian Sovereignty

Cairo, Oct. 28 (AP)—A highly placed Egyptian source said today that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had agreed in treaty negotiations to recognize Egyptian sovereignty over the Sudan and to get all British troops out of Egypt within three years.

Disagreement over the Sudan has been the big stumbling block in negotiations for revision of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian alliance, concerning which Bevin and Egyptian Premier Ismail Sidky Pasha conferred last week in London.

The source, declining to be quoted by name, said that to his official regard to the Sudan the British foreign secretary has coupled a provision for ultimate self-determination for the Sudanese.

Other treaty revision proposals Sidky Pasha brought back from his conference with Bevin in London included, the informant said, a British offer to complete evacuation of British troops from Egypt by an undisclosed date "less than three years from today."

These disclosures followed publication in Al Ahran, influential Arabic newspaper today of a story quoting Sidky Pasha as saying he had developed a new Sudan formula which he believed would satisfy both Egyptians and Sudanese.

The premier said last night in a communique to the Council of Ministers' Secretariat that new formulas resulting from his talks with Bevin would be studied Saturday by the Egyptian delegation, which has rejected previous British proposals.

However, a member of the delegation who would not allow use of his name said today the decision might not be held after all. He made the statement after a conference with his minister Ibrahim Abdi Hadi Pasha on re-sults of the Sidky Pasha-Bevin talks.

Truman Takes Stand Opposite to That of King of Saudi Arabia

'No Inconsistence' President Says He Is at Loss to Understand Objections

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Truman has sent a message to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia reiterating his belief that steps should be taken to insure the immediate substantial immigration of refugee Jews into Palestine.

He told the Arab leader that he could not agree with the latter's statement that there was inconsistency in the American position.

Replying to a letter received from Ibn Saud October 15, the President wrote: "With regard to the possibility envisaged by your majesty that force and violence may be used by Jews in aggressive schemes against the neighboring Arab countries, I can assure you that this government stands opposed to aggressions of any kind or to the employment of terrorism for political purposes. I may add, moreover, that I am convinced that responsible Jewish leaders do not contemplate a policy of aggression against the Arab countries adjacent to Palestine."

The President said he still adhered to the belief, "widely shared by the people of this country," that nothing would contribute more effectively to the alleviation of the plight of homeless Jews "than the authorization of the immediate entry of at least 100,000 of them to Palestine."

No Decision Is Made

In a letter released by the White House today he reminded the Arab leader that no decision has been made on this proposal which he submitted originally to Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain more than a year ago.

In the interim, he said, "it is only natural" that this government should favor "at this time the entry into Palestine of considerable numbers of displaced Jews in Europe."

The President reiterated a previous view that a concerted effort should be made "to open the gates of other lands, including the United States to those unfortunate persons."

He added that he is prepared to ask Congress for special legislation "admitting to this country additional numbers of these persons, over and above the immigration quotas fixed by laws."

At the same time, the United States is working with other governments toward a settlement of other refugees in different countries outside Europe, the President wrote.

"I cannot agree with your majesty that my statement of October 4 is in any way inconsistent with the position taken in the statement issued on my behalf on August 16," the President wrote. "In the latter statement the hope was expressed that as a result of the proposed conversations between the British government and the Jewish and Arab representatives a fair solution of the problem of Palestine could be found and immediate steps could be taken to alleviate the situation of the displaced Jews in Europe."

Hopes Not Realized

Commenting that "unfortunately, these hopes have not been realized," the President added: "In this situation, it seemed incumbent upon me to state as frankly as possible the urgency of the matter and my views both as to the direction in which a solution based on reason and good will might be reached and the immediate steps which should be taken. This I did in my statement of October 4."

"I am at a loss to understand why your majesty seems to feel that this statement was in contradiction to previous promises or statements made by this government. It may be well to recall here that in the past this government, in outlining its attitude on Palestine, has given assurances that it would not take any action which might prove hostile to the Arab people and also that in its view there should be no decision with respect to the basic situation of October 4."

Stamps Still Good

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—Hold on to those spare canning sugar stamps—they're good for an extra 30 days. The ration coupons, spare stamps No. 9 and 10, were scheduled to expire at the end of this month. But because of the sugar shortage in some areas, O.P.A. has extended their life until the end of November. Each stamp is good for five pounds of sugar.

Egypt Calls Upon Nations To Guarantee Middle East

U.N. Timetable

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—The United Nations scheduled today's New York sessions, general debate, by delegates of Egypt, China, Czechoslovakia, New Zealand, France, Poland, South Africa, Syria, and Russia. The Egyptian delegation, headed by Prime Minister Husni Sayid, is expected to make a statement before the assembly on the fourth day of general debate, Oct. 30. The Egyptian delegation also called for condemnation of the "military intervention" in the Middle East, which it said was a violation of the specific consent of the government involved.

Hunter Factory Is Razed by $100,000 Fire Friday Night

Hunter, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A former school, occupied for the past four years by the Mountain Top Manufacturing Co., was razed by a $100,000 fire Friday night. The flames apparently started in the lower section of the building, it was reported by the Kingston Daily Mail, and whipped by a strong breeze, spread rapidly throughout the entire structure. An alarm to summon the Hunter fire department was sounded about 7:15, and shortly afterward aid was sought from the Windham, Lexington and Townville companies.

The strong breeze sent showers of sparks over the entire area, causing many nearby roofs to catch fire, and scorched the home occupied by Sgt. Ralph Fitch of the State Police.

The 52-year-old building, until about 10 years ago was used as a school, was valued at more than $300,000, village officials reported.

It was demolished and leveled about four years ago by the Mountain Top Co., manufacturers of wearing apparel, which provided employment for about 65 persons. A room was retained in the building as a village hall.

The fire burned itself out about 7:30, razing the building to the ground, and destroying thousands of dollars' worth of modern equipment and wearing apparel which had been completed.

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—Egypt, long a contender against British forces within her boundaries, urged on the United Nations today to guarantee the countries of the strategic Middle East against domination by the great powers.

In a speech before the U. N. Assembly on the fourth day of general debate, Oct. 30, the Egyptian delegation also called for condemnation of the "military intervention" in the Middle East, which it said was a violation of the specific consent of the government involved.

Egypt has been involved in an old dispute with the British over the principle of British soldiers in that land, but some diplomatic officials hoped that with a tentative agreement on the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan which was announced last night at Cairo a solution of the Anglo-Egyptian row might be at hand. However, they conceded this was a highly uncertain hope. Prime Minister Attlee's denial to Commons today that Britain had pledged a withdrawal from the Sudan.

Before today's session opened, chief American delegate Warren R. Austin told the United States delegation that he intended to make a policy speech to the General Assembly before the debate closes Wednesday.

To Declare U. S. Position
He is expected to declare officially the United States opposition to any change in the U. N. charter which would give the veto to the great powers, and to the use of the veto power by the great powers in the Security Council would be restricted.

Heikal Pasha, the Egyptian senate president, urged that a world police force might be created and that an international refugee organization might be set up. He did not specifically mention the Palestine issue.

On the question of military forces in foreign soil, Heikal Pasha said: "I request the Assembly to condemn the maintenance of military forces on the territory of any country without the specific consent of the government involved."

The Middle East, he said, is an area of vast resources and vital communications and the United Nations must not interfere with the big powers. Sometimes, he said, treaties are signed by smaller countries under pressure. In this connection he mentioned the Soviet-Iranian agreement for development of Iranian oil signed last May.

The American decision to have Austin speak reverses an earlier delegation conclusion that no speech would be necessary in addition to that made at the opening session by President Truman. Since that time the veto issue has assumed major proportions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—Stocks generally stumbled in today's market after a mad rallying attempt failed to get anywhere. An early flurry in the gold mines on reports, subsequently denied by Washington authorities, that the yellow metal price would be hoisted, put these issues up 1 to 2 points or so but they ultimately retreated. Dealings were slow after the opening and declines of fractions to 2 or more predominated near the fourth hour.

Brokers attributed renewed light selling to apprehension over talk of an economic recession next year and to further adjustment of accounts for income taxes. The persistent flow of favorable earnings and dividends found most stocks concerned unresponsive. Even Wall Street election optimism provided scant buying inspiration.

Active on the upside for a while were Homestake Mining, Alaska Mines, Howe Sound and Alaska Juneau.

Conspicuous in the backward area were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Anaconda, Kennecott, Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Co., General Electric, Union Carbide, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, and N. Y. Central.

Sentiment was clouded by weakness of cotton which broke the limit of $10 a bale before attracting support. Bonds were mixed.

Raps Brewster Report

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—A blast at the administration's housing program by Senator Brewster (R-Me.) drew from Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt today a reply that much of Brewster's report does not even make sense. Brewster charged yesterday that he reported as a "long-suppressed" member of the Senate War Investigating Committee criticizing war

Hunt Is Made For Girl's Killers

Federal Troops Search Area in Mexico

Mexico City, Oct. 28 (AP)—Killers of pretty Nan Peiker Beach, 19, of Tulsa, Okla., were the object of a widening manhunt today through the wild Balsas River country more than 100 miles south of here.

Detectives from Mexico City were reported on their way to join 200 Federal troops and an airplane already searching the thinly populated area.

Charles Edward Beach, 28, New York artist, was slated for another interview with authorities today in regard to his wife's death on a honeymoon camping trip.

He told the federal prosecutor's office in a formal declaration Saturday that three masked men armed with shotguns blasted a hole in his wife's shoulder as the two lay sleeping beside the river Wednesday night. She later died.

The troops were under orders to search the village of Tetela, near the campsite, for money and a .22-caliber rifle and other equipment which Beach said were stolen and to find two Indians to whom he said the couple had talked.

The couple had been wed only four months and were on a honeymoon they expected to finance by selling color photographs and magazine articles developed on the trip.

"Bat" Will Be Permanent Part of U. S. Navy
A radar-guided glide bomb which was used successfully in combat during the war will become an important, permanent part of the peacetime Navy. Navy officials today announced that the "Bat" as a fully developed weapon, the Navy has launched a program to train fleet aircraft personnel in the technical and operational use of the weapon.

The Bat was operated entirely by specially trained Bureau of Ordnance teams in the war, and its use is being taught to pilots and aircrews at the Naval Aviation Ordnance Test Station, Chino, Cal., and at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. The bomber squadrons are being organized for service use of the missile.

Used against Japanese combat and merchant shipping during the last year of World War II, the Bat proved to be the first successful fully automatic guided missile.

A low-angle-of-flight, self-controlled airborne missile, the Bat is capable of carrying a 1,000-pound bomb load, and has a range of 10 miles. The bomb is mounted in a glide type airframe and is equipped with a gyroscopic stabilizing unit and a servo system. The airframe was a radar transmitter and receiver to provide direct control of the missile.

Suspended under a wing or below the fuselage of an airplane, the Bat is about 12 feet long and has a 10-foot wing span. Its speed is comparable to that of high-speed aircraft, and its range is great enough to allow the mother plane to operate well out of the enemy's longest anti-aircraft fire.

An important feature is that of its homing powers. After it is released from the Navy's Privateer bomber, it becomes completely automatic. Any evasive maneuvers of the target ship are followed promptly by the weapon which is directed by a radar transmitter and receiver.

$50,000 Roseton Fire Burns Barges, Machine

Twelve empty grain barges docked in the Hudson river off Roseton and a brick-loading machine on shore were destroyed by fire of unknown origin Saturday morning, causing damage unofficially estimated at nearly $50,000.

Flames swept so rapidly through the craft, saturated with creosote and oil, that all of the barges were badly damaged before the arrival of a pumper. Fire department pumper, the barges are owned by Hedger Transportation Corp. of New York.

The caretaker, Captain Robert Sewart, and his wife, escaped from their living quarters on one of the barges, but lost their furniture and all personal belongings.

Dairy Farms Decrease, Herds Show Increase

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 28 (AP)—New York's dairy farms are decreasing, but the size of individual herds is increasing. The State Department of Agriculture, in a federal-state release yesterday, added that milk deliveries during the first six months of 1946 were off seven per cent from the first half of 1945, but about equal to 1941.

A total of 61,300 farmers delivered milk to dairy plants in June, 2.4 per cent fewer than in June, 1945.

Resume Testimony In $50,000 Case

Hoppe Death Suit Is Heard in Court

Testimony was resumed this morning in the $50,000 negligence action brought by Erna Hoppe Fischer, as administratrix of the estate of Ernest Hoppe, against the New York Central Railroad, Walter and Fannie Williams and the Ulster County Construction Company. Plaintiff seeks in Supreme Court to recover for the death of her father who was killed in an automobile accident on March 21, 1943 when a car in which he was riding was struck by a train at the Williams Lake crossing in the town of Rosendale.

The morning session was taken up with testimony describing the conditions which exist at the crossing, distances and the alignment of the roadway and railroad adjacent to the crossing. Under Sheriff Stanley Wine and former Coroner Frank J. McCordie testified at length as to conditions at the crossing.

Mr. McCordie, now commissioner of jurors, and a resident of Rosendale testified he had crossed the site of the accident several hundred times in the past fifteen years and described a portion of the roadway which he said had been built between the Keator place north to the mill yard and then across the tracks at the same site of the present crossing. A new strip of road was later built from the Keator place north to the mill yard and there joined the old road.

Mr. McCordie said one could see about 75 feet north to the railroad tracks when about 10 to 15 feet from the tracks at the crossing. Coming from Rosendale station he testified the road was paved to the tracks for several hundred feet, then turned away to the right and back to the left and over the crossing.

There was considerable interrogation relative to signs at the crossing which were shown on photographs and which included the wording "private crossing." These signs had been there for a number of years, the witness said.

According to Officer James Cullum who arrested Trumpait Saturday night, the latter was driving on Henry street, and crashed into the safety zone at Broadway and Henry street, damaging it.

On Wednesday night he will deliver a statewide broadcast from a Manhattan radio studio, addressed principally to assemblies of members of the rural citizens committee for Dewey and Ives. The same night he will speak at a rally in Roosevelt High School, the Bronx.

The Governor will participate Thursday afternoon in ceremonies marking the opening of the new National Headquarters of the Automobile Association of America.

He will make a major speech

After the speech he will attend two rallies in Harlem. A statewide broadcast next Monday night, from a place to be announced, will wind up the Governor's campaigning.

Dewey closed his upstate campaign in Buffalo Saturday night with a speech in which he asserted that Americans had been "cheated" of their "birthright"—necessities and conveniences of life—"by an administration in Washington which, by sheer ineptitude has created scarcity in the midst of plenty and throttled down the most productive industrial plant in history."

This same administration, he said "would now reach out to take over the State of New York."

U. S. Court Refuses To Change Decision

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to disturb a lower court decision upholding Georgia's county unit voting system.

Under the system, Eugene Talmadge recently won the Democratic nomination for governor, although he trailed James V. Carmichael in popular votes. Carmichael had the support of Gov. Ellis Arnall.

A special three-judge U. S. district court in Atlanta decided the system violates no constitutional guarantees of equal rights.

Three Georgia voters appeal to the Supreme Court to review the case and reverse the decision.

Pastor and Wife Overcome by Gas Near Germantown

The Rev. Charles E. Deitz, pastor of Christ Church, Germantown, Columbia county, and his wife, were found unconscious in their home about two miles from Germantown village, about 10 o'clock Sunday night when neighbors forced their way into the parsonage.

Both had apparently been overcome by coal gas escaping from either the furnace or a hot water heater.

The pastor had planned to go to Hudson Sunday night to take part in the Reformation service in St. John's Church. Donald Donegar, a neighbor, had arranged to drive the pastor to Hudson, and called at the home about 7 o'clock. No response was received, when he rang the doorbell, and believing that the pastor had gone on to Hudson with someone else, and thought nothing of it.

However, when Donegar later learned that the pastor was not at the church service in Hudson, he became fearful that something had happened and together with his brother, Charles, and several neighbors forced a window and found the young minister and his wife on the floor of their bedroom.

Mrs. Deitz was taken to the Hudson hospital at 1:30 o'clock and was reported recovering. Her husband also showed signs of rallying and his condition had improved.

Intense Rivalry Shows Once More In Pennsylvania

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 28 (AP)—One of Pennsylvania's congressional fights in 1944 was decided by 1,701 votes. Another by 494 votes.

That intense rivalry is in evidence once again for the Keystone state's congressional campaign.

Numerical superiority in Pennsylvania's 33-men delegation to the 80th congress is freely claimed by each of the major parties. But policy-making spokesmen—

Republican Governor Edward Martin and U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Pittsburgh Democrat—readily concede that the key lies in five highly industrial districts—the 6th and 7th in the Philadelphia area and the 25th, 29th and 30th in western Pennsylvania.

There, elections year after year see victories determined by the narrowest of margins. In 1944 all were carried by fewer than 5,000. Triumphs by Republicans in four of them swung the majority of Pennsylvania seats to the G.O.P.—18 to 15.

The G.O.P. gained another seat in a special election last May to fill the 23rd District vacancy caused by the death of J. Bucil Snyder, a Democrat.

Individually, the quinter of key districts present specific local problems not affecting the others.

In the 7th District, considered suburban Philadelphia, Republicans patched up differences to back E. Wallace Chadwick, Chester, Pa., attorney running against the perennial Democratic candidate, Vernon O'Rourke, a Swarthmore College professor.

Incumbent Republican James Wolfenden declined to run.

A hammer-and-tongs battle is developing in Pittsburgh's 29th District, which was won by the G.O.P. by 494 votes in 1944. Harry Davenport, a political newcomer who describes himself as "a moderate Liberal Democrat," opposes Republican John McDowell, a former congressman.

Davenport's backers are attacking what they describe as McDowell's "Isolationist record." McDowell, a Wilkesburg publisher, says:

"I don't like to attack anyone because there is too much slandering in politics already."

The three other vital districts have these opponents:

Herbert J. McGlinchey, Democrat incumbent, against Republican Hugh D. Scott, Jr., 6th District; Samuel G. Neff, Democrat against Republican incumbent Louis E. Graham, who won by 1,071 votes in 1944, in the 25th District; and Democrat James W. Knox against Robert J. Corbett, Republican incumbent, 30th District (Pittsburgh).

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By R. F. S. DEWDNEY
(For Hal Boyle)

Johannesburg, South Africa, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Leopard Men of Nigeria are no the proverbial again. Recent reports state that upwards of 200 clawed and mutilated bodies, victims of the Leopard Men, have been found in the jungle fastnesses.

Nobody knows the exact origin of the Leopard Men, or "Anyotos," but they have given more trouble to white administrators than any other secret society in the history of African colonization. They spread terror among various tribes from Mozambique, across the Congo to the west African coast.

The Anyoto wears a leopard skin draped over his head and down to the waist, with two holes cut for the eyes. On each wrist is an ingenious iron bracelet with four sharp prongs which lie flat against the hand when open but project forward like claws when the fist is clenched. They often carry a stick with a replica of a leopard's paw on one end. By jabbing this into damp soil they give the impression of a leopard stalking a victim.

Wait Beside Trail

On the warpath, the Leopard Men wait beside a jungle trail until an unsuspecting villager comes along. Then, shrieking like the animals they emulate they spring on his back and claw out the jugular vein with their iron hooks. The body is dragged into a convenient clearing and mutilated amid a frenzy of fanatical mumbo-mumbo.

The witch doctor takes what he needs for his "medicines," and then the bag of charms called the "bohina" is produced for the ceremony of keeping it "alive." The black bag of human skin about the size of a large sausage is kept "alive" by periodical painting with human blood. Finally, the Leopard Men eat parts of their victim to protect them from sickness and endow them with certain mystic virtues.

Ointment Is Used

The Leopard Men often use a specially prepared ointment, containing an ingredient like pepper, which is pushed into the nostrils before a ritual murder and is supposed to cause violent excitement while dulling the senses. The Leopard Men believe that if they fail to kill their victim the ointment in their noses will swell and suffocate them.

Initiation into the sect is a terrible ordeal, lasting for two months and including torture and mutilation which must be borne with stoicism. The witch doctor impress on the young men the vital necessity for complete obedience to the leader and for absolute secrecy. Death is the penalty for disobedience. In the final ceremony the laki, or chief leopard, cuts the prescribed ritual marks in the flesh of the recruit, who then becomes a fully fledged Anyoto.

Terrorism is a potent weapon and colonial authorities find it almost impossible to secure reliable evidence against the Leopard Men, even from intended victims who may escape. They do not often escape.

What Would Dutch Recognition Mean to Foreign Capital

By STAN SWINTON
AP Newsfeatures

Batavia, Java—What would Dutch recognition of the Republic of Indonesia mean to the estimated two and one-half to three billion dollars of foreign capital invested in the East Indies?

That question has fresh interest for commercial circles here since negotiations were renewed between the Dutch and Indonesian Republicans amid indications of Dutch willingness to grant considerable political concessions in Java and Sumatra, where most foreign holdings are concentrated. Three-quarters of this foreign capital is Dutch; the remainder virtually all British and American.

Economic Program

Darmawan Mangoenkoesoemo, Republican Minister of Economic Affairs, says:

"We plan to nationalize mining, petroleum and tin production, sugar, salt and tobacco production and such public utilities as electricity, railways and communications."

"Study commissions will be appointed to determine what financial settlements should be made where there are former private owners."

"We are willing to maintain economic co-operation with all when we are free. Foreign capital, if needed, will be asked to come in but on condition favorable to the population. By that I mean that side by side with capitalist profits there must be an increased share for the workers, through minimum wage scales and higher salaries."

Constitution Quote

Basically socialistic, the Indonesian economic policy was laid down in the Republican Constitution, Article 33, which says:

"Section 1: Economy shall be organized cooperatively."

Father—I certainly do. Right now your mother and I are living as cheaply as you.

Riding on the subway in New York during a fairly crowded hour a man was startled to see sitting opposite him in the car a man reading a newspaper and paying no attention whatever to a pair of pigeons which were seated one on each shoulder. Many statistics further on, when the crowd had thinned out somewhat, he could repress his curiosity no longer. Stepping across the aisle he accosted the man, saying:

First Man—I beg your pardon, but would you mind telling me what those pigeons are doing on your shoulders?

Other Man—Looking up from his paper—I don't know. They got on at 14th street.

Youth Center Sponsors
Affair October 31

The third annual Halloween party and dance sponsored by the Youth Center of the Y.M.C.A., will be held Thursday evening, October 31, from 7 o'clock until 11:30 o'clock, at the association building.

This year's event promises to out-do any program ever presented for the young people at the Y. Physical Director Louis Schafer is arranging the party and dance, and is being assisted by Secretary Burt S. Tandy and Boys' Work Secretary Clarence Correll.

The entire building will be decorated in real Halloween style. The decorating of the Youth Center and game rooms will be done this week-end with 15 young people doing the work.

The Youth Center will have a big flower design that will cover the entire ceiling with a large spot light in the center. The sides of the spacious room will have real goblins, cats, pumpkins and corn stalks in contrast with the spooky event.

The upstairs game room will house 10 carnival games, and all will be attractively decorated. Prizes for these booths have all been purchased, as well as prizes for the other contests.

The lower gym will be used for comedy, Halloween movies. There will be four or five showings.

During the evening the "Y" Compline Club will serve sweet cider and donuts.

A special large ticket with 20 ration coupons will be purchased at the door and the coupons will be used throughout the night for the various entertainments and for the refreshments, movies and dance.

The Halloween party and dance is intended for the older groups of boys and girls, and children that attend grammar school are expected to attend the city-wide party in the auditorium, sponsored by the recreation department, American Legion and the 40 & 8.

With these two big Halloween parties held Thursday night the youth of the city will find plenty of recreation of the proper kind.

WILL STALIN BEGIN SMILING?

If Byrnes really has been standing pat on the diplomatic battle line at Paris, if he has shown the Kremlin that he is hard and is going to stay that way, then I believe we may expect in the near future a change in the policy, or rather in the apparent policy, of Stalin toward the United States.

One trouble with such guessing is that we still can't be sure we can depend on our own man. Just when we were about convinced that Byrnes really would stand fast and not give ground, we got reports, from men who ought to know, that he crossed himself one evening in August by feeling out, very privately, Comrade Molotov on the old "sphere of influence" business. The approach was reportedly subtle but Byrnes got the idea across—and got a flat No for an answer. (This was just before Lefty Wallace tossed his A-bomb into Truman's lap by going to Madison Square Garden and calling for appeasement of Russia.)

The administration has tried so hard for so long to get the man from Moscow to say yes, it must really be hard for Byrnes now to break off the courtship.

There is however indisputable evidence of our new policy. Most important is the fact that the people now are forcing it. The foreign policy—like the policy on O.P.A.—is being shaped by the people. A wave of wrath against appeasement has made even the White House Two-World conscious. It would not be easy for the administration to change this attitude. There is the further evidence that Wallace is out and is now a vote killer rather than a vote getter. On these indications we can place our reliance as to our foreign policy.

Just Fooling

Stalin can see these things, too.

Beware of Smile

A few months after Franklin D. Roosevelt took office as president, Stalin, seeing a chance for official recognition by the United States, smiled broadly and said he would even give up his bad habit of making war on us via the Comintern. And of course he got the prize plum. He sweet-talked Roosevelt into recognizing a government neck deep in the blood of its own people, a government which was then counterfeiting our currency and spending it in China and Germany like an underworld gang.

More than 100 delegates from the Eastern division attended the regional meeting for Planned Parenthood held at the Alumnae House in Poughkeepsie Tuesday. Board members attending from Ulster County Committee for Planned Parenthood were Mrs. Henry J. Wood, chairman, Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Mrs. Stuyvesant Brodhead, Mrs. Albert E. Announcement was made of the national campaign scheduled for the month of February. "Planned Parenthood has come of age" and has taken its place among top social health and welfare agencies of the country," D. Kenneth Rose, national director, said in Chicago, September 30, as he opened the campaign training seminar. A report on this seminar was made to the Poughkeepsie meeting. More than 100 representatives of Planned Parenthood affiliates throughout the country attended the three-day seminar and unanimously approved the three-part program for which $2,000,000 will be sought in a national campaign in February.

This program includes expanded planned parenthood service to the individuals through local clinics; a research program to investigate the entire field of human reproduction with special emphasis on infertility treatment and fertility control.

"We have gone through our first growing pains," Mr. Rose said, "and now must face the adult responsibilities of an established service. We cannot meet those responsibilities fully on a purely local level. A unified effort and program are necessary if we are to achieve our full stature."

Girl Scouts Assist with Christmas Seal Mailing

One of the most important tenets of the Girl Scout program throughout the 34 years of its growth has been service to its community. Girl Scouts from various troops in Ulster county assist in enveloping seals for the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Drive. They will be busy at this task for the next four Saturday afternoons. Last week scouts from Troops 8 and 39 of St. Joseph's School assisted as shown from left: Patricia Ruffing, Patricia Goldleaf, Mary Whalen, Arlene Longendyke, Arlene Granquist and Joan Bruno. The girls are celebrating National Girl Scout Week. (Freeman Photo)

THE PROFESSIONAL HOSTESS
A young woman who has just been offered a position of professional hostess in a hotel is extremely puzzled about her duties. She writes me: "If only you will tell me what qualifications I am expected to have so that I can know whether or not I will be able to fit myself for such a position, I shall be more grateful than I can tell you."

Such duties vary somewhat in each hotel, but in general outline you will be expected to make yourself tactfully useful with emphasis on the word "tact." Your duties are similar to those of a hostess in her own house to which she has invited people unknown to each other.

Those who seem perfectly content or who meet friends are let alone, but those who wander about alone are asked whether or not they would like to be rescued. If they do, then you introduce them to other people who also would like to meet others. Most important is to find out what they want you to do and avoid doing what they don't want.

Your special duty is at dances. Introduce dancing men to the girls and rescue the latter when they are stranded. Your position will be made easy for you since guests themselves realize that they may appeal to you for whatever they themselves need.

Return Money, by All Means!
Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter became engaged, a friend of my husband's sent her a sizable check with his good wishes and she should buy whatever she pleased with it. She deposited the check to her account. Now the engagement has been broken. Other presents of importance are being returned, but what shall we do about this money?

Answer: It is actually simpler and more important to return the money than many of the other presents. Of course, she must write a note explaining why the check is drawn by her instead of the one that he originally sent her.

Could your manners pass an etiquette test? Send for Mrs. Post's booklet, "An Etiquette Test," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 15, N. Y.

Notes Increase in Building Materials

Noting an increased flow of building materials during the past few weeks, John A. Kervick, regional director of the Federal Public Housing Authority, New York city, stated today that "with 7,419 dwelling units and dormitory accommodations already completed and occupied in the temporary emergency veterans' program covering New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware," he confidently looked forward to the completion of an additional $200 accommodations during the next four-week period.

"The difficulties in obtaining necessary building materials and labor shortages in outlining districts presented the major obstacles to the progress of this program during the past few months," he added. "In recent weeks it has become quite evident that materials are flowing more freely, thus confining the shortages to a few items, principally plumbing fixtures and fittings, household equipment such as gas ranges and space heaters, and wall board."

"In New York state alone," Mr. Kervick said, "2,426 family dwelling units and 2,590 dormitory accommodations had been completed, thus affording living quarters for 5,016 veterans and their families." Mr. Kervick further stated that a great many of the projects under construction in New York state were rapidly nearing completion. "Recent reports from those unrelated to the Federal Housing Authority have caused a misunderstanding of the program among veterans and veterans' organizations," Mr. Kervick continued.

The $60,000,000 F.P.H.A. program in New York state will provide 20,163 accommodations for 24 cities and 36 colleges and universities. Under the Mead-Lanham program the local bodies furnish the sites and install the utilities, and the F.P.H.A. builds the houses. The completed developments are managed locally by the municipalities and colleges.

Explaining the extent of the program, Mr. Kervick stated that "included in the New York state program are the two largest single emergency veterans' housing developments in the country—Jamaica Bay Houses, consisting of 2,061 dwelling units, which will house approximately 7,500 people, with 1,125 houses now occupied, and Northern Boulevard Homes, made up of 1,874 dwelling units and accommodating approximately 7,000 persons."

A five-room house built of laminated plastic panels weighs only one ton; a conventional house of this size weighs 40 tons.

Limerick Prize Winner

Dorothy Benson of 420 Foxhall avenue is shown attired in the Doris Dodson dress which was presented her by London's Junior Bazaar as the result of receiving the top award in the recent limerick contest sponsored by the London store and the manufacturers of the Doris Dodson dresses. Arthur H. London made the presentation. Judges in the contest were Mrs. L. R. LeFever, president of the College Women's Club; Miss M. M. Schuetz, supervisor of Home Economics at Kingston High School; and Mrs. Arthur H. London. The winning entry in the local contest will now be entered in a nation-wide contest, and the top contestant there will receive three Doris Dodson dresses every three months for an entire year. Object of the contest was to add the final line to an unfinished limerick. Dorothy Benson's entry read as follows:

Said Ruth to Lucy and Grace,
A girl's only charm's not her face;
It helps, I confess,
But a D. Dodson dress
Puts a far plainer gal in the race."

Osman Preaches Farewell Sermon

Here Since 1944, Will Go to New Salem, Pa.

Taking as his sermon theme, "Walking With God," the Rev. Robert E. Osman preached his farewell sermon as pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church at the morning service in the church on Sunday.

Special musical services marked the event with the choir singing the anthem "Let My Prayer Be Let Forth", and John McCullough singing the tenor solo "Behold the Master Passeth By."

The services yesterday were largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Osman had been serving the downtown church as its pastor since July, 1944. Next Sunday he will preach his first sermon as pastor of the Presbyterian Church in New Salem, Pa.

During the month of November the guest preacher at the downtown church will be the Rev. John D. Gregory, D.D., a former pastor of the Rye Presbyterian Church in Rye.

With the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Osman as pastor of the church here the candidate committee named to select candidates for the pastorate has received a number of applications.
